

BRACKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1914.

WILLIAM C. McFARLANE, Editor.

For Governor,
(Subject to the decision of the Democratic Party)
HON. J. PROCTOR KNOTT of Marion.

To break the seal of an oman, you must strike the water.

The mosquito was a good example to carry in a burning hot to-day.

Whisky warms the stomach in this world and burns the soul in the world to come.

When a "rag" dances on "milling" as of Judge Lynch's party, it is the house of a "strag" land.

The farrow languet to be given Mrs. Lantry by a club of young New York girls will be much more about nothing.

Pumpkin pie is "On a Fly's Back." They have trouble enough to get it, however, when the sugar bowl is left uncovered.

The 16th of next month will drop four feet of the gubernatorial aspirants like a small boy's piece of lard on the ground, to be there still down.

A Louisville commercial tourist captured an amiable snake upon our city the other day, and named it "Machibolby." It is green and yellow.

As English writers insist that that few laymen have been invested with the Garter. Nothing singular about that. Garters were not invented for "limbs of the law."

In private life, it is really to do their civic duty, to serve through deeds of war, let them confine their assassinations to their creatures as O'Donovan Rossa.

Don Inoué, in a greatly interested in the New Testament, which clearly points out the only means of escape from the fire that most threaten him.

The first $10 that Peter Cooper ever earned he invested in lottery tickets. (Baltimore Courier.) Yes, and the fact that he died with several millions in lottery tickets that he drew the line at that ten dollars.

The Jones organ proved that the Jacob loom was originated in the interest of Mr. Knott. Considering that it robs that convention, the statement is both accurate and foolish.

The Mr. Sewing Democrat asserts that Mr. Knott has promised the position of secretary of state to six different gentlemen in the event that he becomes governor. Annals forbids his life for more innocent in this than that.

The New York Herald is not impressed with the eloquent speech of C. F. McGill, who rode at the Lexington Club banquet in Chicago the other day. He being a southern man and a democrat has a great deal to do with a non-prosecution.

Mr. Talmage admits there is one pain proper to self-administer. He doesn't desire the pain, but he has to administer it at some time while driving a nail he has. It is his hand with a hammer, and there he knows what he is talking about.

Mrs. Lantry and Freddie Gebhart rode the streets of Washington together. When President Andrew was there, they joined the procession, the cause of the freedom of the people in the dome of the capitol will hide in its hands to conceal its blishes.

Every democrat in Brackenridge county will be delighted to learn that Mr. Pennington has reconsidered his withdrawal from the legislative contest, and authorized us to republish the announcement of a candidacy, which we gladly do this morning.

A lady who was bitten by a rat while in a room of an Atlanta hotel, has secured a proprietor for $10,000 damages. If she cannot secure a verdict, she will pass into history as the mother of a new industry, and hotels all over the country will be under damages for bedbugs and mosquito bites.

The editor of the Haverhill Democrat says, "Proctor Knott is a traitor to his country as well as to his countrymen." And yet there is that in both the speech and the seat of our breeches which, we think, is the hand of the editor of the Democrat, would greatly enrich the columns of his paper.

The Owsenboro Post has changed in a weekly, and the weekly edition discontinued. George Triplet, the city's first newspaperman in the state, and gets a paper that is as honest to the press of Kentucky. We would not be surprised if his present venture proves the prelude to a daily issue.

Mrs. Lantry has set her head on making a conquest of President Arthur. It will not be a difficult undertaking. "Chet" will not be able to furnish her with a man's market, as it is the man of men who does not require the second wink from a pretty woman, as Mr. Clark Davis, of the treasury department will testify.

Ware Henry Clay alive today he would be an ardent advocate of tariff reform. In his great tariff speech in the senate, February 22, 1843, he uttered these significant words: "The theory of protection supports, too, that after a certain time, the potential arts will have acquired such strength and perfection as will enable them to stand alone, and to stand against foreign competition." That happened time is again arrived, when the products of American mechanical skill are equal to foreign countries and add with profit at prices from one-fourth to one-half less than the protective system permits the manufacturers to charge our own people, hence our country's assertion that we can live without a tariff alive, he would be an advocate of a tariff for revenue.

THE COMMON SCHOOLS.

An Address by the Committee Appointed by the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky.
To the People of Kentucky: A convention of friends of popular education held at Frankfort, April 23 and 24, 1914, and the undersigned were appointed a drafting committee to prepare a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement. The committee held a series of public hearings at various points in the state, and received many suggestions from the people. The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement. The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT
The convention was impressed with the primary duty of the state to give all the children thereof the opportunity and the means to obtain an elementary education. The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement. The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement.

THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.
The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement. The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement.

PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL POPULATION
Total population of Kentucky, 1910, 2,237,171.
Total white population, 2,151,311.
Total colored population, 85,860.
Total male population, 1,137,191.
Total female population, 1,099,980.
Total population under 21 years of age, 1,099,980.
Total population 21 years of age and over, 1,137,191.
Total population in 1900, 2,071,000.
Total population in 1910, 2,237,171.
Increase, 166,171, or 8.0%.

These statistics are not only alarming, but they are also a warning. They show that the common school system is in a state of decay, and that the state is failing to provide for the education of its children. The committee is now preparing a report on the condition of the common schools, the wants of the common school system, and the means for its improvement.
